if you are asked to send the bike to a facility that is not owned by a registered dealer, the exact address of that facility must be on the printout, which enables cdp to send the item to the correct location for pickup. the most common method of delivering the bike is by drop off at a dealership. the dealership has an agreement with the edc and is required to check into the registration before they are allowed to drop off the bike. this check is made to verify the registration is current and operational. the permitted use of the motorcycle can be checked by inspection of the permit when dropped off. however, it is the responsibility of the dealership, and ultimately the customer, to insure the permit is inspected and that it is legal to drive. other locations could be a parcel carrier or a delivery service, and the allowed use must be entered as part of the registration process. if using a delivery service, add the name, phone number, and address of the authorized person to the permit. i don't mean to be a pain in the butt. i'm on this for 5 days, trying to register this piece of crap and then trying to activate it. there isn't a single thing on this except for the driver's id number and the bose serial number. no activate key, no software, and it won't activate when i open the activation info. the user manual doesn't include any sort of serial number at all! i'm still trying to register it. here's what i've done so far: 1) it won't activate, i literally can't get it to even turn on. 2) there isn't a single vehicle id number and no other hardware number. the road bikes that this is designed to mount on (bmx, mtb, and other racing bikes) have serial numbers printed on them. this has none whatsoever. i'm really at a loss here. help! 5ec8ef588b
